

Sanctions And Rewards In The Legal System: A Multidisciplinary Approach

CEPS WORKING DOCUMENT

Thinking ahead for Europe

The EU's Use of 'Targeted' Sanctions Evaluating effectiveness

Clara Portela

No. 391 / March 2014

Abstract

This study analyses the use by the European Union of the novel concept of 'targeted sanctions' in the framework of its Common Foreign and Security Policy. It examines two sets of sanctions regimes featuring different degrees of efficacy: in Myanmar and Zimbabwe, the EU wielded measures in support of human rights and democracy objectives in the absence of a United Nations mandate, while it supplemented UN sanctions to stop nuclear proliferation in Iran and North Korea. The study highlights a number of facilitators of, or hindrances to, the efficacy of sanctions, such as the degree of support by regional powers or the presence of UN legitimisation. It concludes that the EU sanctions regimes could be optimised by using more robust measures, designing them on the basis of ex ante assessments, enabling faster upgrades, monitoring their impact and adjusting them regularly and improving outreach efforts.

CEPS Working Documents are intended to give an indication of work being conducted within CEPS' research programmes and to stimulate reactions from other experts in the field. The views expressed in this paper are those of the author and do not necessarily represent any institution with which she is affiliated.

ISBN 978-94-6138-379-2

Available for free downloading from the CEPS website (<http://www.ceps.eu>)
© CEPS 2014

Ten distinguished experts look at the important subject of sanctions and rewards in the legal system from the perspective of their individual disciplines. Among Sanctions and Rewards in the Legal System. A Multidisciplinary Approach. Ed. by Friedland, Martin. UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO PRESS. Sanctions and Rewards in the Legal System: a Multidisciplinary Approach. Edited by Martin L. Friedland. [Toronto, Buffalo and London. Sanctions and rewards in the legal system: a multidisciplinary approach / edited by M.L. Friedland. Other Authors. Friedland, Martin L. Canadian Institute for. Sanctions and Rewards in the Legal System: A Multidisciplinary Approach [Martin Friedland] on tuttoliberty.com FREE shipping on qualifying offers. Book by. Faculty of Law, University of Toronto. () 40 U.T.L.J. M.L. Friedland, ed., Sanctions and Rewards in the Legal System: A Multidisciplinary Approach. Download & Read Online with Best Experience File Name: Sanctions And Rewards In The Legal System A Multidisciplinary Approach PDF. SANCTIONS AND. Register Free To Download Files File Name: Sanction And Rewards In The Legal System A Multidisciplinary Approach PDF. SANCTION AND REWARDS IN . Above the Law: Secret Deals, Political Fixes, and Other Misadventures of the U.S. Sanctions and Rewards in the Legal System: A Multidisciplinary Approach. ARNOLD, H.J. () Sanctions and rewards: organizational perspective. In Sanctions and rewards in the legal system: a multidisciplinary approach, ed. sanctions and rewards behavioral change, motivators of, drug court criminal justice system, criminal reoffense, drug court program, and rewards, judicial status hearings, multidisciplinary team . In Sanctions and Rewards in the Legal System: A Multidisciplinary Social Control and Corporate Organization: A Durkheimian Perspective. Table 1 shows that four of the five sites sent a multidisciplinary team to the for rewards and a sanction system, studying the JSTEPS team. x, pp. $ FRIEDLAND, M.L., ed. Sanctions and Rewards in the Legal System: A. Multidisciplinary Approach. Toronto: University of Toronto Press . SANCTIONS AND REWARDS IN THE LEGAL SYSTEM: A MULTIDISCIPLINARY APPROACH. By. ML. Friedland. Toronto: University of Toronto Press. at all stages in the criminal justice system (Butler Multidisciplinary approach that integrates mental health and social services with the Client program engagement is closely monitored by the court and subject to sanctions and rewards. JSTEPS: Using Rewards in Justice Treatment Programs: Technology from the formation of a local multidisciplinary team to the utilization of new technology tools, and . exercises designed to help them develop their reward/sanction system. M.L. Friedland, ed., Sanctions and Rewards in the Legal System: A. Multidisciplinary Approach (Toronto: University of Toronto Press. As part of judicial supervision, drug courts use a system of sanctions and and graduation to the next phase of the program are also given as rewards. less likely to be a multidisciplinary team that supports the court process. While the rules, rewards and sanctions approach draws on ideas about choice and continue to be widely employed and supported in the UK education system. . experience: emotions, a sense of justice, and their relationships with peers. ... and National Identities today: Multidisciplinary perspectives.criminal justice system by providing a way to benefit from drug rehabilitation. Although drug courts utilize a multidisciplinary team approach, the role of the including drug testing results, the administration of sanctions or rewards, and a.He has also worked extensively with clients on senior executive team (Ed.) Sanctions and Rewards in the Legal System: A Multidisciplinary Perspective.as a leader among equals of a multidisciplinary team of professionals that even the relentlessly when drug courts were born, the court system was in crisis.appearing before the criminal justice system are drug dependent or have histories rewards and sanctions encourages pro-social behaviour and treatment participation. the influence of the multidisciplinary Drug Court team on participant.See, e.g., SANCTIONS AND REWARDS IN THE LEGAL SYSTEM: A MULTIDISCIPLINARY APPROACH. (Martin L. Friedland ed.,).

[\[PDF\] Proceedings Of Solar 95: The 1995 American Solar Energy Society Annual Conference, Minneapolis, Minn](#)

[\[PDF\] The Dematerialisation Of Karl Marx: Literature And Marxist Theory](#)

[\[PDF\] Slavery And The South, 1852-1857](#)

[\[PDF\] Teaming With Wildlife Initiative: Oversight Hearing Before The Subcommittee On Fisheries, Wildlife,](#)

[\[PDF\] Discovering America: Journeys In Search Of The New World](#)

[\[PDF\] Fir Trees](#)

[\[PDF\] Joyce Carol Oates, Artist In Residence](#)