

Reaching Out: Stories For Readers Of 6 To 8

Ideas for sharing stories in your home language

- 1) Check out your local library, and ask librarians to help you find books in your home language.
- 2) Pick books without words, and tell the story to your child in the home language (they can tell it back to you, too).
- 3) Play with "story cubes" - they are like dice, with small pictures on each side, which you and your child can use to make up stories.
- 4) Make up stories one sentence at a time; one person starts, the other continues. Take it in turns until you reach the end.
- 5) Use trips home (or friends visiting) to gather books and other materials in the home language.
- 6) Take pictures and make up your own stories (there are apps to help with this, or just print off photos, if you can).
- 7) Ask among friends, family, and the local community to organise multilingual book-swaps and sales.
- 8) Organise a "story interview" - help children to interview older family or community members to share oral stories, write them down or audio record them. If you can, collect the stories and share them with other members of the community.
